A TIME OF TRANSITION

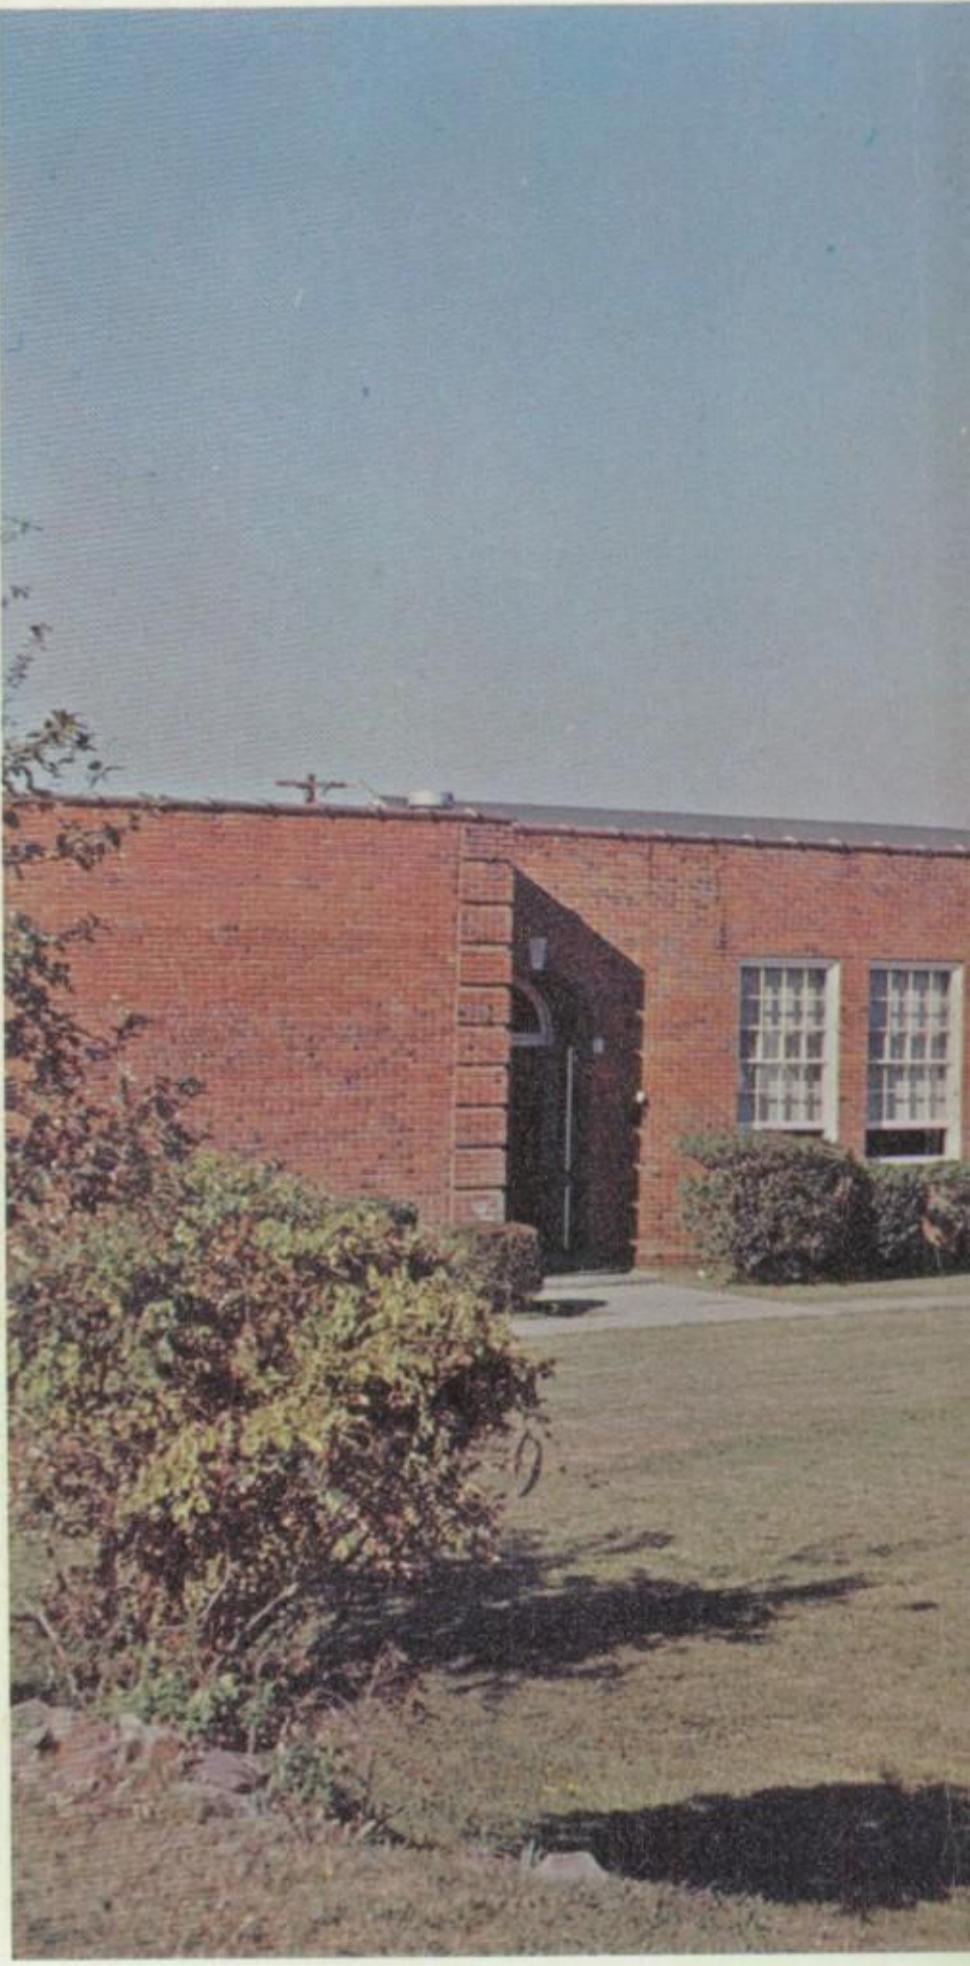

Through the past twelve years, we have seen Allen Jay grow and expand. Not only in the number of students and faculty, but the school has also grown in facilities and curriculum. As the school has changed, so have we. When we first entered school, we became a part of this changing atmosphere. Over the years, we have grown and developed in many aspects. To recapture the transition of our school years, we, the Seniors of Allen Jay High School, present the 1967 Aln-Ja-Hi.

- JA - HI

There was a time to put away the past and realize the future. Preparation began with the nucleus of activities at Allen Jay. Opportunities were greater than ever before. Students had to be ambitious enough to meet these challenges.

Through a newly organized program, Cooperative Office Occupations, business students had a chance to obtain "on the job experience" and to gain a better understanding of the business world. We faced a new year—a productive one for those who were willing to meet the challenges.

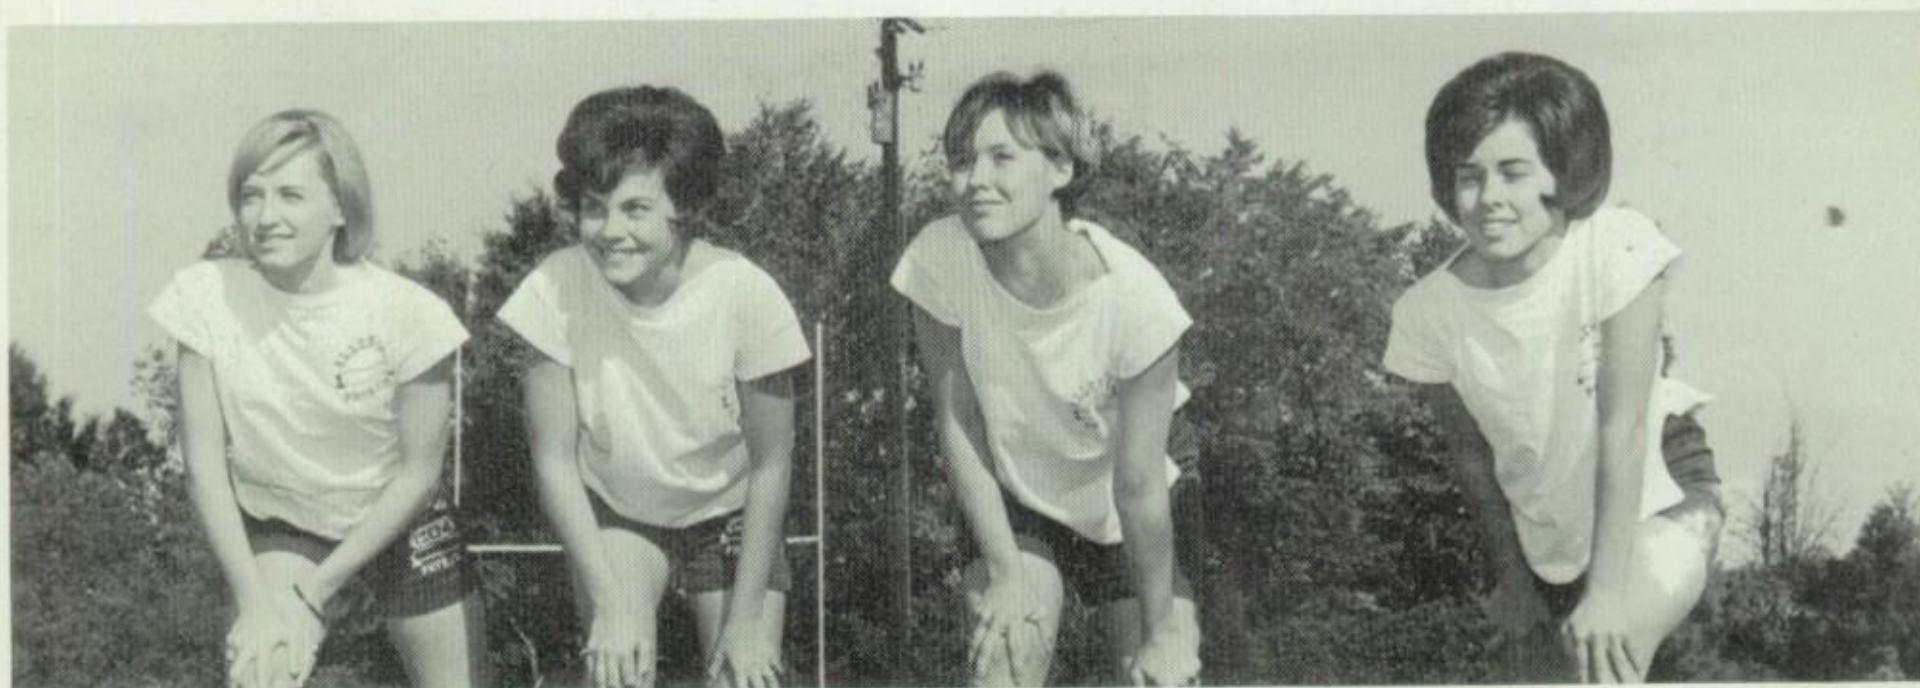

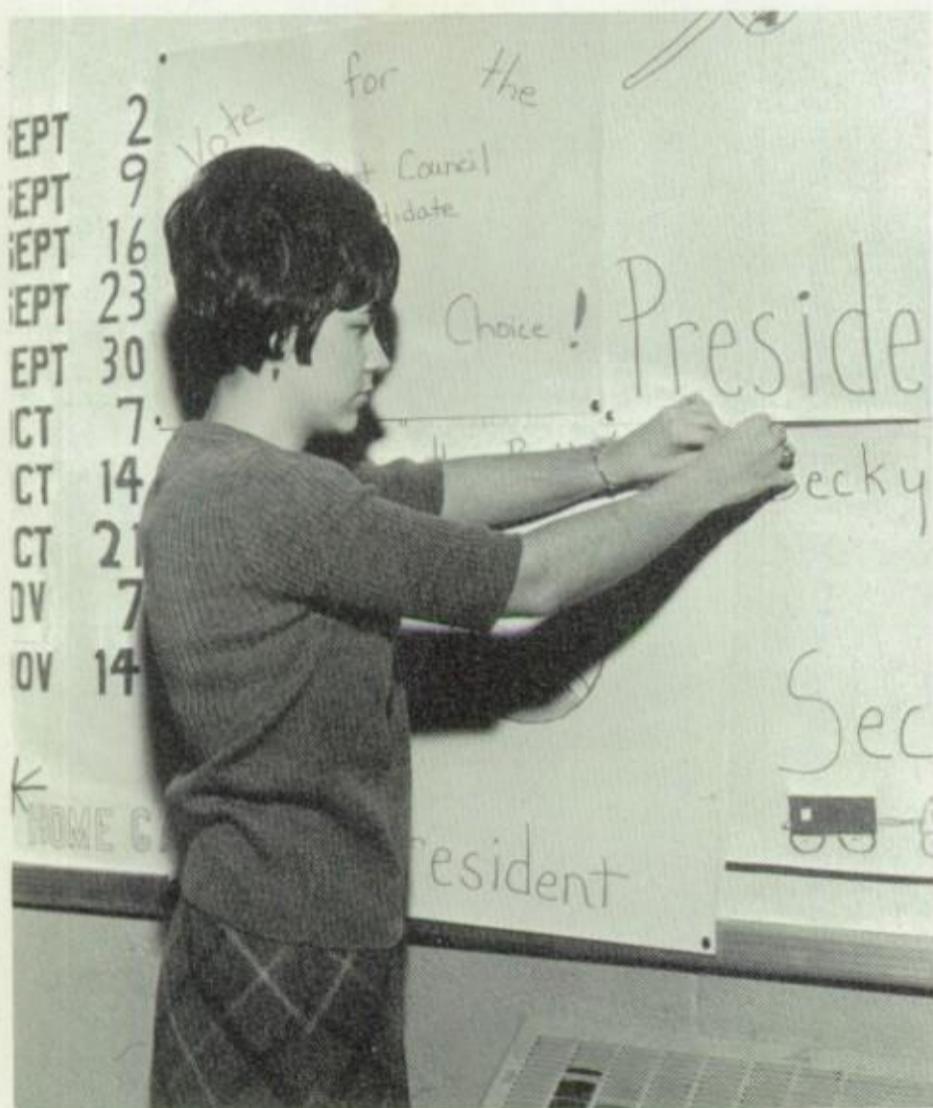

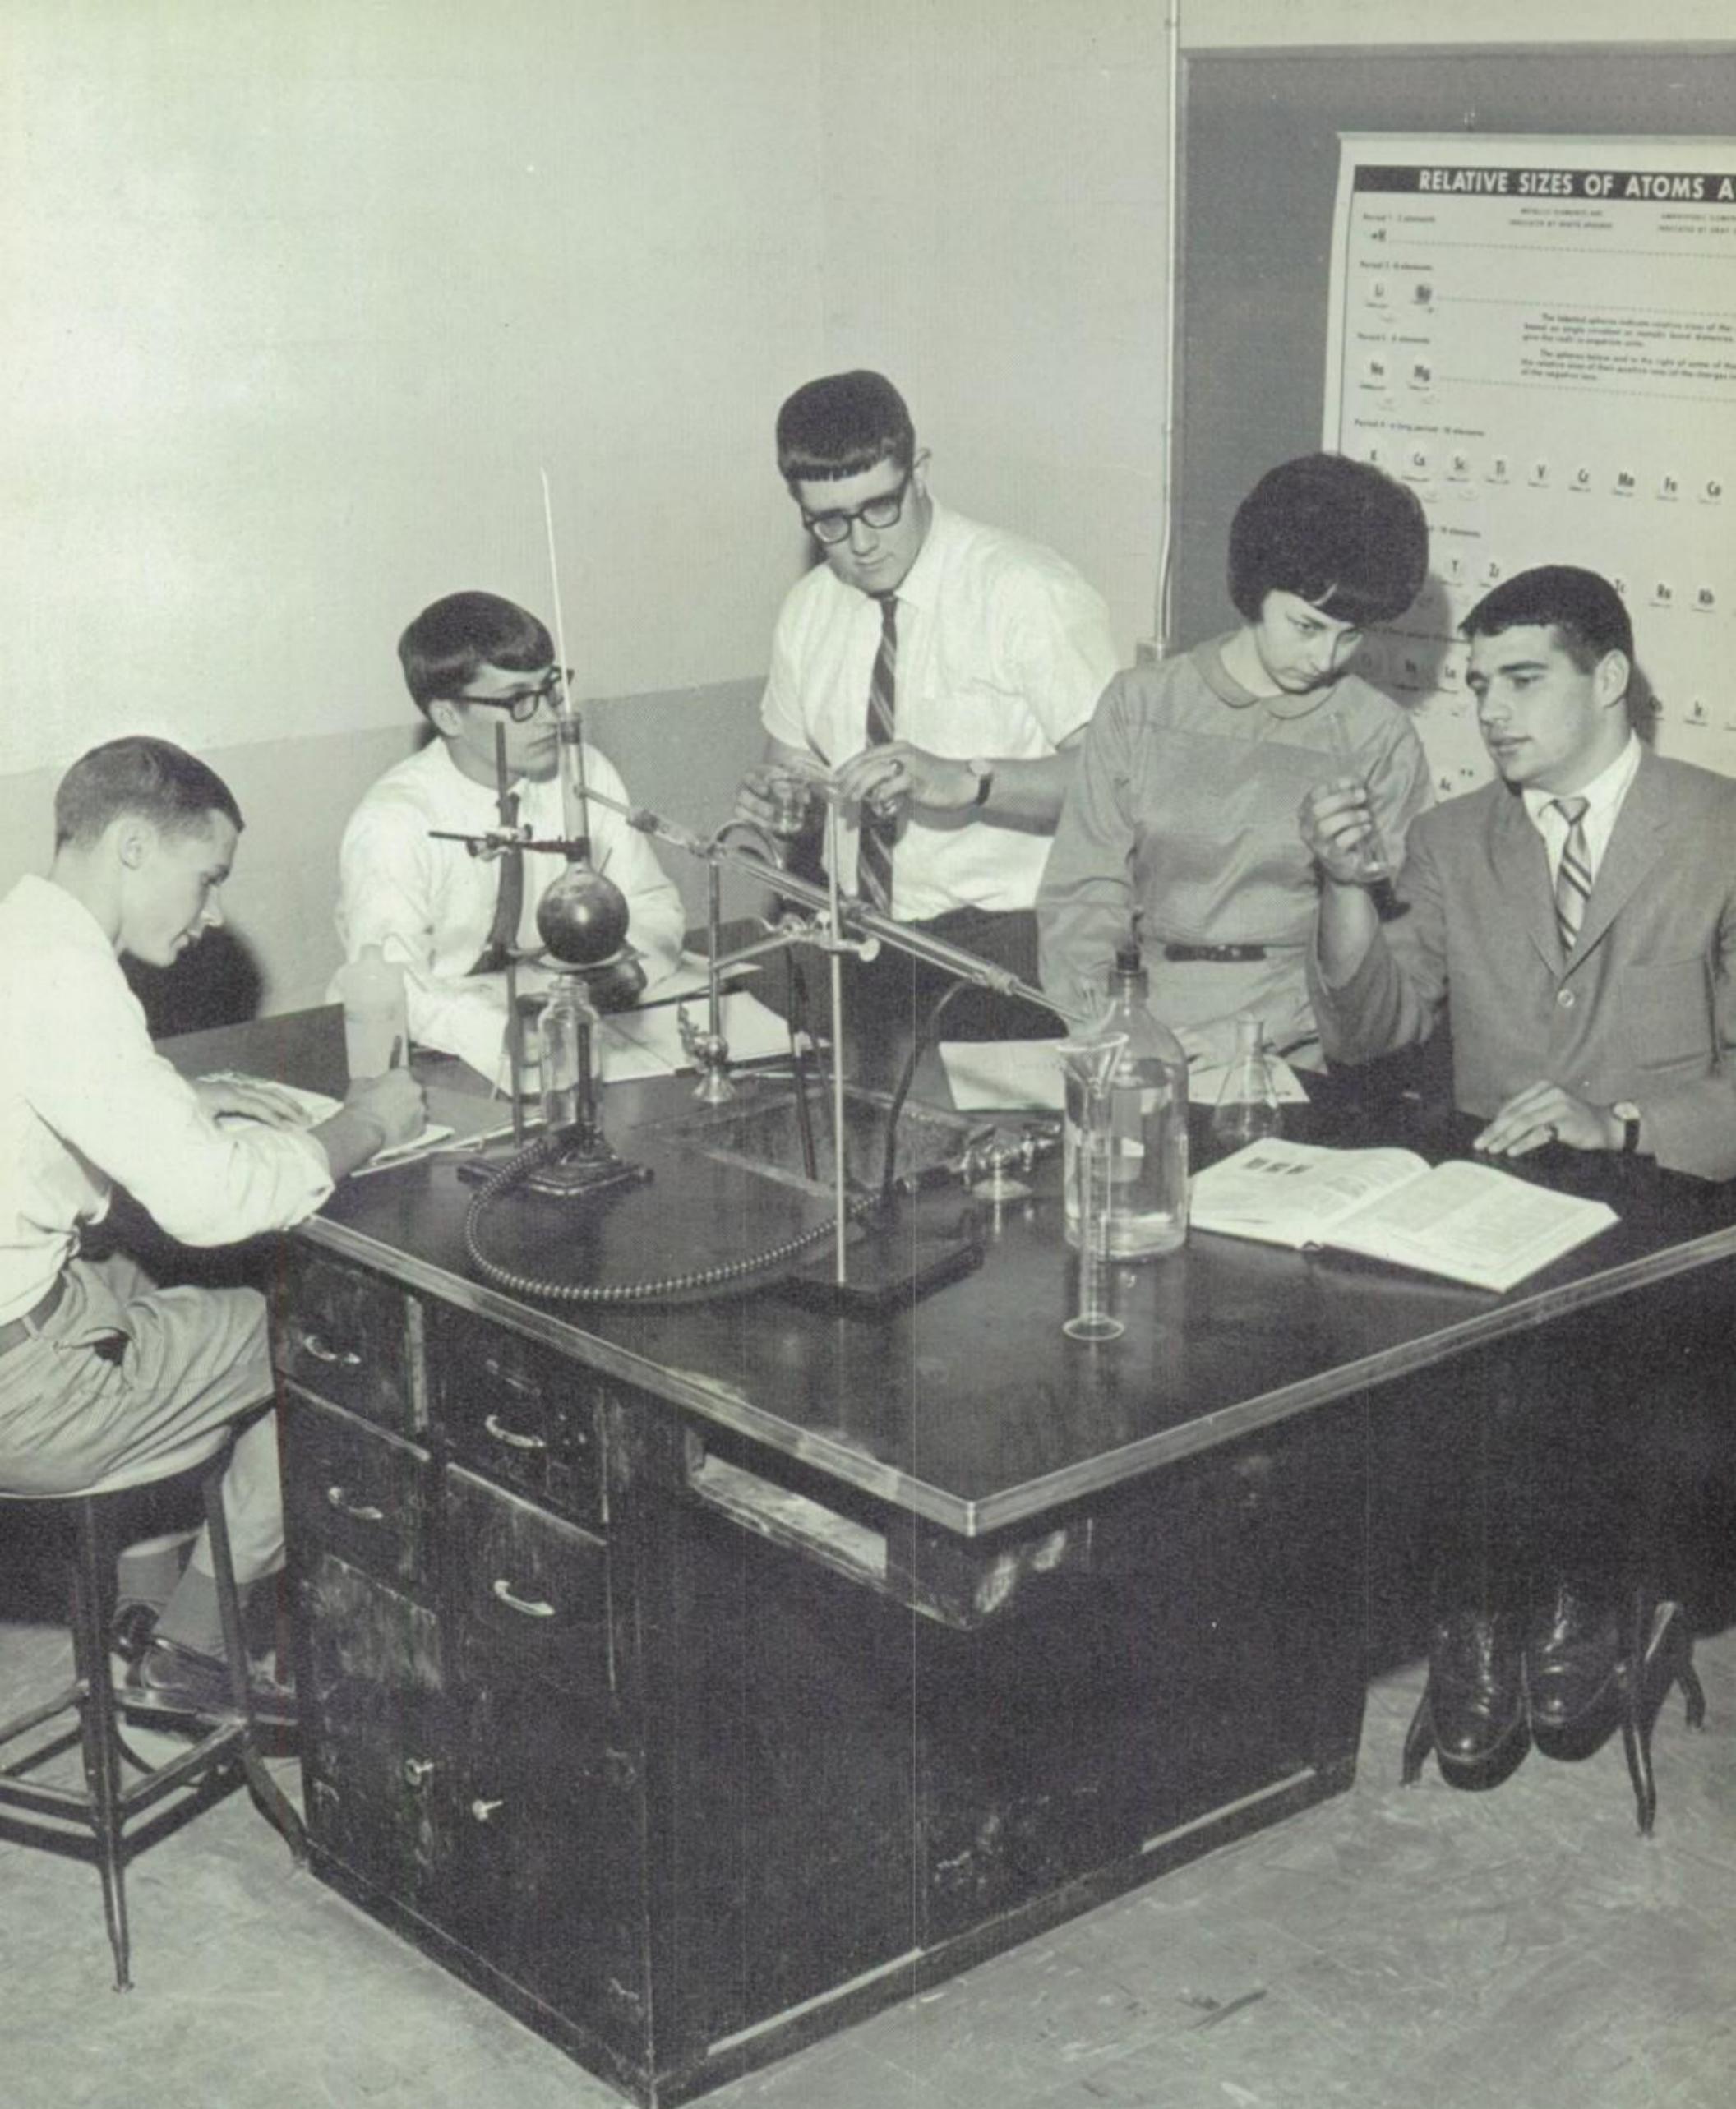

A Time To Begin A New Year

A Time for Competition

Every year there comes a time for earnest endeavor. Outstanding abilities along with keen enthusiasm enabled many students to become leaders of their class. Through competitive activities young people develop the qualities of good citizenship and high moral character necessary for the development of a well-rounded personality.

A Time for Understanding

Cathy, how have you been able to stand it.
first period English and then having to share your backyard with me, too
It's been a pleasure for me.

A Time for Participation

A time is set aside each year for club projects and class activities. The range of these activities is unlimited; thus, every student receives a chance to participate and to enrich his life by working with others for a common goal.

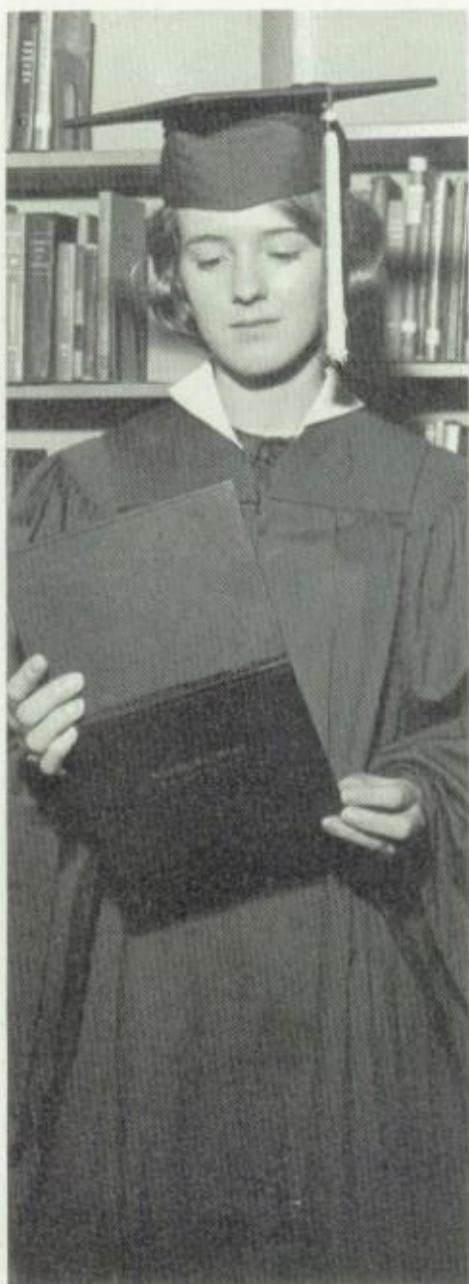

The Junior Class worked diligently selling magazines to finance the Junior-Senior Banquet. Members of the Beta and F.B.L.A. Clubs sold candy for the needs of their clubs.

A Time for Achievement

Each year students strive hard to meet their goals. The rewards can be great for any who have the determination to reach them. Achievement is not easily accomplished.

Those who take the time and effort to reach their goals are rewarded by recognition and pride of accomplishment.

A Time for Acknowledgement...

Mrs. Kathleen White

We, the class of 1967, desire to show our appreciation to one who has gone out of her way to understand us. Because of her personal interest and genuine concern, she has become an inseparable part of Allen Jay. Thus, Allen Jay will always mean the more to us for her having been identified with it. Some of our most cherished memories will be of her warm smile and friendly ways.

As a lasting mark of our deep respect and affection for her, we humbly and gratefully dedicate the 1967 Aln-Ja-Hi to
Mrs. Kathleen White,
School Secretary.

A Time for Inspiration

Teachers must give inspiration among other things. They must promote the intellectual, physical, and moral interest of their school. Teaching is many things; correcting papers, planning lessons, preparing bulletin boards, sponsoring extracurricular activities, and attending meetings.

Someone has said that teaching is many sided, complex, ever changing, ever challenging, and always rewarding. Our teachers measure up to the many challenges of education.

ACADEMICS

Superintendent and School Board

We are grateful for the efforts of the members of our school board and our Superintendent, each of whom has made an invaluable contribution toward an ever-improving program of administration at Allen Jay. These hard-working, dedicated individuals give a major part of their time and interests to working for the welfare of our school and its students.

Library and Guidance

The departments of High School Library and Guidance are often tied closely together. In the library, one can explore the world of books to the limits of the imagination, or the very real world which we know. It is a place of study and concentration on the future as well as a source of pleasure. Another place where the future is the principle topic is the Guidance office. It is a place where we all go at one time or another. It is often, that through the materials of the library and the Guidance office, we decide what our own future shall be.

English literature is a fascinating subject. The different periods and outstanding authors represent all phases of human experience.

When we study any language, native or foreign, we learn much more than simply how to speak correctly. From English we learn to understand, evaluate, and apply the ideas of some of the world's greatest intellectuals as well as to use fundamentals of self-expression which are necessary for success in any occupation. From French, we learn still another means of communication—that of a foreign language, and we also learn about the lives and customs of people who live "half a world away." The things we learn from the study of language help us to build a better life for ourselves.

The Business Education department is a very important department at Allen Jay. Many students who will someday become employed in many phases of office work, receive their basic training here and through the Co-operative Office Occupations Program. The skills of typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and office machines enable students enrolled in these courses to become efficient and industrious employees.

In typing, students learn basic skills which will be very helpful in the future.

A Time for Action

As we turn back the pages of our athletic teams, we see athletes with outstanding ability and keen sportsmanship. The success of these athletic teams was not only attributed to the spirit of the athletes, but also to a very capable coaching staff and to loyal fans.

Cheerleaders extended their duty and came to the ballgames early to begin the crowds cheering and to put a winning spirit in the air.

All the efforts and support of the athletes, coaches, cheerleaders, and fans led to a more successful athletic team for the Allen Jay Jaybirds.

A Time for Service

In addition to its teaching facilities, a school must also provide services for the faculty and students of the school. Without these services, the proper environment for learning cannot be maintained. These services are invaluable, but they often go unnoticed or unappreciated by the people who use them most. The excellent service staff at Allen Jay are instrumental in providing an atmosphere of learning by their smooth operation of the schools facilities, and by keeping the working areas neat and clean.

The cafeteria staff also provides the students with a healthful and nourishing meal every day. This is very helpful in creating a satisfied attitude on the part of the students.

Students, too, perform services valuable to the school and to their fellow students. The bus drivers take upon themselves the responsibility of transporting many of the students to and from school safely. Students also help by doing secretarial work in the office, and by compiling the attendance records each day. These services are very much needed and appreciated by the faculty.

The many services performed by the staff and students at Allen Jay help keep our school running efficiently. Our cafeteria staff prepares our delicious meals, and the custodians keep our school neat and clean. Students, help too. The bus drivers do an excellent job in bringing students to school and returning them home. Also, in the Attendance Office, students make out absentee slips for the faculty. Usually, some student also helps in the office.

CLASSES

A Time for Fellowship

High school is a time for fellowship as well as for learning—a time for making friends and storing memories that will enrich our lives both now and in the years to come. We begin to work together as Freshmen, feeling closer at first because of the common feeling that we are strangers here, and later because of the new and exciting experiences we have shared. By the time we are Seniors, both our class and our friendships are firmly established.

Seniors

Throughout our SENIOR YEAR we saw many of our goals near realization. Each hour was a small but important part of an investment in our future. Each day ended with sighs of joy of achievement and sometimes hope for a more fulfilling day tomorrow. Each month showed us that our days at Allen Jay High School would not last forever.

We learned that we must move forward into the future with its demanding task of reaching personal goals.

My mouth shall speak of wisdom; and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding. Psalms 49:3.

A Time for Development

The elementary years are a time of development in growth and learning and a time of preparation for the present and future.

Teachers play an important role in this development and preparation, for they not only impart facts, theories, and ideas; but also they bestow understanding and guidance and help to form attitudes, a part of which may last an eternity.

The students, themselves range from the very young fourth graders to the grown up eighth graders—each on the threshold ready to enter more exciting and more rewarding years.

A Time for Appreciation

Each year the seniors take contract books in hand and go soliciting advertisements from the merchants and general public of the city of High Point. Each year they return with the public support we need to make the yearbook possible. Without the support and confidence of the public, we would not be able to produce this collection of memories which we will recall in the future. We, the students, can show our appreciation to these people by patronizing their establishments and making use of their services.

A Time for Transition

Cool, clear water reflects the present,
Holds the past in its dark depths,
But of the future it knows not.

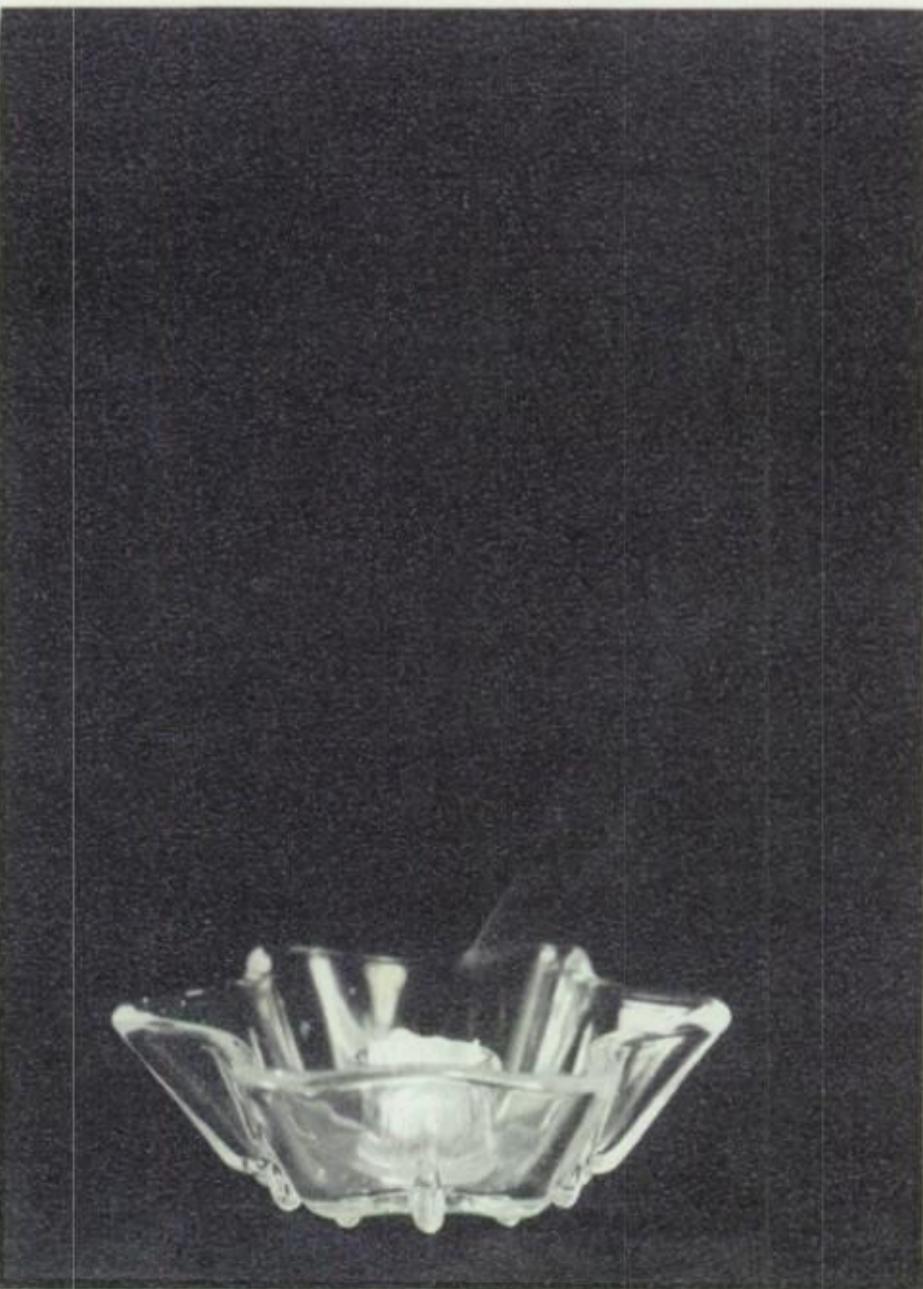

Like pools of water we, ourselves, reflect the present.
This Aln-Ja-Hi for 1967 holds the yesterdays of that year. With our hopes, dreams, and goals, we look to the future.

Perhaps sometime and somewhere in the future,
we will take time to recross the bridges of our lives to the year 1967.

We, the editors and staff, hope that these pages will re-call the fun and hard work, the tears and laughter, and teachers and friends.

If any page causes a smile to cross
your face,
our efforts will have been successful.

This is the first time I've ever wrote more. We have had some real good talks too. I would like to

Cathy,

Well, this has been one more heck of a year hasn't it. I have enjoyed being in your English class and homeroom. I know we will always remember this year, the Junior-Senior, and class-mixing (which we haven't gotten yet). Remember the day we got out for the Junior-Senior, man what an excuse we had. My eye is better now.
Ha! I want to wish you the best of luck in the future and I know you'll have the best.
You are a very cute and sweet girl so stay that way.

Love,
Helen

Cathy,

Boy we've had some great times together, haven't we? I hope we can get together during the summer. Our study-hall was fun even though we didn't do anything. Hope you get a job this summer and make some money. I am going to close now, but don't forget all those times we have had together, O.K. Be good and I'll see you during the summer. May God Bless.

P.S Are you going riding Sunday?

Cathy, you are a very sweet and cute girl. You are the kind of person who people cherish to have your friendship. Have a wonderful summer (at the beach) and be good. Good luck in the future & may God Bless. An Advising friend Linda Nelson

Cathy, you are a very cute and sweet girl. I have enjoyed knowing you. Remember the F.B.I. Convention. She has a good time, don't we. A friend

Cathy,

It has really been fun being with you this year. We have had some great times riding around together, and some pretty funny things have happened to us! Boy! I hope some of them never happen again. Remember all the trouble you have had?

Summer will soon be here, and I simply can not wait. FREEDOM! No homework to worry about, and we can go up town every night (maybe).

Be good this summer and don't work too hard. Stay out of trouble, if you can! Best of luck always and may God bless you.

a friend always,
Brenda

Cathy,

Well, it's that time of year again. We'll be Seniors in a few weeks, won't that be great? We've had a ball this year. Planning the after-party at Marta's and then having it.

I'll really enjoyed knowing you all these years especially during High school. You a swell person and a really great friend. Best of luck always to a sweet, cute and warm friend.

A friend always,
Debbie
